

Flowchart for the process interview question-type is part of the response you provide to the command SUPPLY-QUESTION. already-answered is a list of question-type that we provide to you in a PRIOR-RESPONSES command. These are discussed more in the instructions.

A warm-up question is important because it allows us to hear what is on the mind of the interviewee before we embark on a more rigid interview (interrogation?) to classify their problem.

